

George-Little Rock
COMMUNITY SCHOOLS

Good Afternoon,

Thank you! Thank you! Thank you for an amazing trip! I never thought you could top the previous trip, but Junior Tours did it again. For the past twenty years, your company has provided unforgettable experiences for this naïve group of Iowa students. If I do the math correctly, you've impacted the lives of over 400 students and adults from my small community. That is quite the legacy!

The relationship we've built – despite the fact that we only see each other once every other year – I truly feel like we're friends, not just business associates. If you ever (EVER) need someone to speak on your behalf, don't hesitate to call me! (Next Friday I'm traveling to my daughter's school to give them the lowdown on Junior Tours! I have presentation in hand and am so excited to share our traveling memories.)

I thought the hotels were wonderful. The bus transportation, well, that was awesome too. We were in stitches with our driver Kenny. You really need to put a microphone on him because he is incredibly entertaining.

I can't say enough about Clift, our DC guide. He is informative, relaxed, and so personable. The kids absolutely loved getting to know him. Steven in NY was equally amazing- professional, energetic and very talented. To meet an aspiring playwright was so cool. As a high school director, I was very intrigued with his material.

I truly appreciate the itinerary. It was the first time I saw Mount Vernon and I cried. I'm not kidding – I cried. I love George Washington and to walk the grounds of his home was something I will never forget. Despite the heat, the kids said it was one of their favorite sites. Also, because we added the day, we visited Ellis Island again. I always want to spend more time at Ellis than the kids do, but hey, I love history.

How on earth did you get such great orchestra seats for Wicked? Students actually cried during the opening scenes because of the beauty of the show. (They cried when she "died" and rejoiced when she lived.)

In conclusion, thank you, thank you, thank you. The trip was amazing! Keep the adventures coming and we'll see you again in two years!

Best Regards,

Brenda M. Sandbulte

To Whom it May Concern:

Here are some reminders about Junior Tours:

- ★ For 50 years, we have specialized in offering upscale student tours at affordable prices.
- ★ Teachers from all 50 states and Canada have safely traveled with more than a half million students on our tours.
- ★ 9 out of 10 groups who travel with Junior Tours return to travel with us again.
- ★ We are active members of the National Tour Association, Student & Youth Travel Association and the American Bus Association.
- ★ We maintain $2,000,000 of liability insurance coverage.
- ★ We provide private security at your hotel each night on your floor.
- ★ A company representative can be reached by emergency contact number 24 hours a day.
- ★ Our groups are escorted by our tour guides for the entire duration of their stay.
- ★ At the beginning of tour, each person is given an Emergency Procedure Card to help them find the group if they are separated.
- ★ Each group is provided a personal tour coordinator to ensure that the itinerary is planned to meet the educational goals set forth by the group leader.

Sincerely yours,

Richard Abrams

Richard Abrams
Junior Tours
President