

After a difficult year dealing with the pandemic, we can finally peek over the horizon and start to plan for a return to normal. Your students are probably starved for meaningful educational experiences they missed out on over the past year. Traveling to one of America's great cities on a group tour is the best way for students to reconnect.

There is still some uncertainty as we move forward however, and Junior Tours recognizes the need for greater flexibility. The 'Junior Tours Promise' outlines options to protect your group if conditions warrant a change prior to departure.

OPTIONS TO RESCHEDULE

- If your group would like, you can reschedule the trip. All payments received, less any non-recoverable deposits, will be fully applied to the rescheduled trip.

OPTIONS TO CANCEL FOR REFUNDS

- If your group would like, you can cancel the trip. All payments received, less any non-recoverable deposits and $200 per person booking fee will immediately be refunded.

CANCEL FOR ANY REASON (CFAR) INSURANCE PROTECTION

- We suggest purchasing CFAR Insurance with the tour package. This insurance will provide refunds if an individual decides to cancel from a scheduled trip or if the group decides to cancel or reschedule the trip.

CFAR Insurance reimburses 100% of financial loss for cancellations due to emergency reasons such as sickness or injury, death, jury duty, military personnel called to emergency duty for a disaster other than war, etc.

a CFAR Insurance reimburses 75% of financial loss for cancellations due to non-emergency reasons.

Additional information, including terms and conditions, can viewed at <https://juniortours.com/insurance>

Your money is safe with Junior Tours. We have operated as a family run business since 1976 and have a strong balance sheet with no debt. All tour payments are held in a separate bank account that is used only to pay for tour related expenses. General and administrative expenses for the company are paid from a separately funded bank account.